Judges:

This year's scholarship theme: "SUCCESS"

Success means different things to different people. To the greedy, success means having lots of money. To another, success might mean graduating from school or maybe learning how to ski. I can say that I have had many successes in my life. But from the way I view success, I think of one specific person—Mother Teresa. To me, she defines success. She may not have looked at her life in that way, but from what I can see and millions more, Mother Teresa succeeded in more areas in her life than other people. She was definitely a gift from God. Her life was dedicated to helping the less fortunate. Up until the day she died, Mother Teresa succeeded at being the absolute best person she could possibly be. She had the passion of love in her. I am not saying that my life is going to be that way, but it sure sounds good. I wish people wouldn't focus on themselves so much.

This impressionist portrait of B.B. King will be hung in the Clinton Presidential Library when it opens in 2004.

This portrait of B.B. King was her first finger painting. She used blue and black acrylic paint completing this impressionist piece in four hours.
