

DO YOU KNOW ANY TRULY EXCEPTIONAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL HISTORY TEACHERS?

Nominate them for the 2009 History Teacher of the Year Award honoring outstanding teachers across the country.

About History Teacher of the Year

- Sponsored by the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History, the award recognizes outstanding American history teachers and the importance of American history education.
- Winners are selected from each of the fifty states, the District of Columbia, Department of Defense Schools, and the U.S. Territories.
- Each state winner receives $1,000 and a collection of history books and educational materials is donated to his/her school's library.
- State winners become finalists for the National History Teacher of the Year Award.
- To nominate a teacher for the Arkansas award, email Sheree Baird at sheree.baird@arkansas.gov with the teacher's name, school, and a short paragraph describing why the teacher is exceptional.
- For more information, including nomination and application guidelines, please visit www.gilderlehrman.org/teachers/student8.html.
